

OLD MONEY SOLD.

Uncle Sam is never too busy managing the government to pick up an honest dollar on the side. Part of his income is from rent of a Chinese restaurant, which operates in a government owned building, and he constantly is doing business with second-hand furniture dealers and buyers of junk.

That the government never gives away anything it lawfully can sell is shown by the fact that it sells the refuse of the money it destroys. Of what use is the pulp of macerated paper money? Of no use whatever. That is what the officials of the government said for many years. But that it has value is shown by the books of the Treasury Department, which show that last year Uncle Sam disposed of his stock of macerated pulp for more than $15,000. There were many bidders for it and it was disposed of to a New Yorker. —Ex.

Automobiles should avoid meeting trains at a crossing on meatless days. Might add that it is considered bad form to get "lit up" on a lightless night.
